Build It is a beautifully illustrated book that tells the stories of 25 of the most influential people in history, from ancient engineers to modern scientists. These are the people who shaped our world with their groundbreaking ideas and inventions.

The book is divided into five sections, each focusing on a different era of innovation. The first section, "The Ancient World," features stories of the people who built the pyramids, the Great Wall of China, and the Roman aqueducts. The second section, "The Middle Ages," tells the stories of the people who invented the printing press, the compass, and the telescope. The third section, "The Renaissance," features stories of the people who painted the Sistine Chapel, designed the Mona Lisa, and built the Taj Mahal.

The fourth section, "The Enlightenment," tells the stories of the people who developed the steam engine, the cotton gin, and the telegraph. The fifth section, "The Modern World," features stories of the people who invented the airplane, the computer, and the internet.

Build It is a fascinating and inspiring read for anyone interested in history, innovation, or engineering. The book is full of amazing stories of human ingenuity and perseverance. It is a reminder that anything is possible if you set your mind to it and is perfect for anyone who wants to learn more about the people who have made a difference in the world.
